

WELCOME TO THE
WORLD OF ENERGY!

A great inventor
named George Westinghouse
had a lot of imagination and ideas. Way back in 1886, George started a company to make his ideas real. He named it Westinghouse Electric Company.

Westinghouse Electric Company made this coloring book for you! You can use it to learn about how electricity is made.
Maybe you will use your imagination
and ideas to be an inventor
like George!

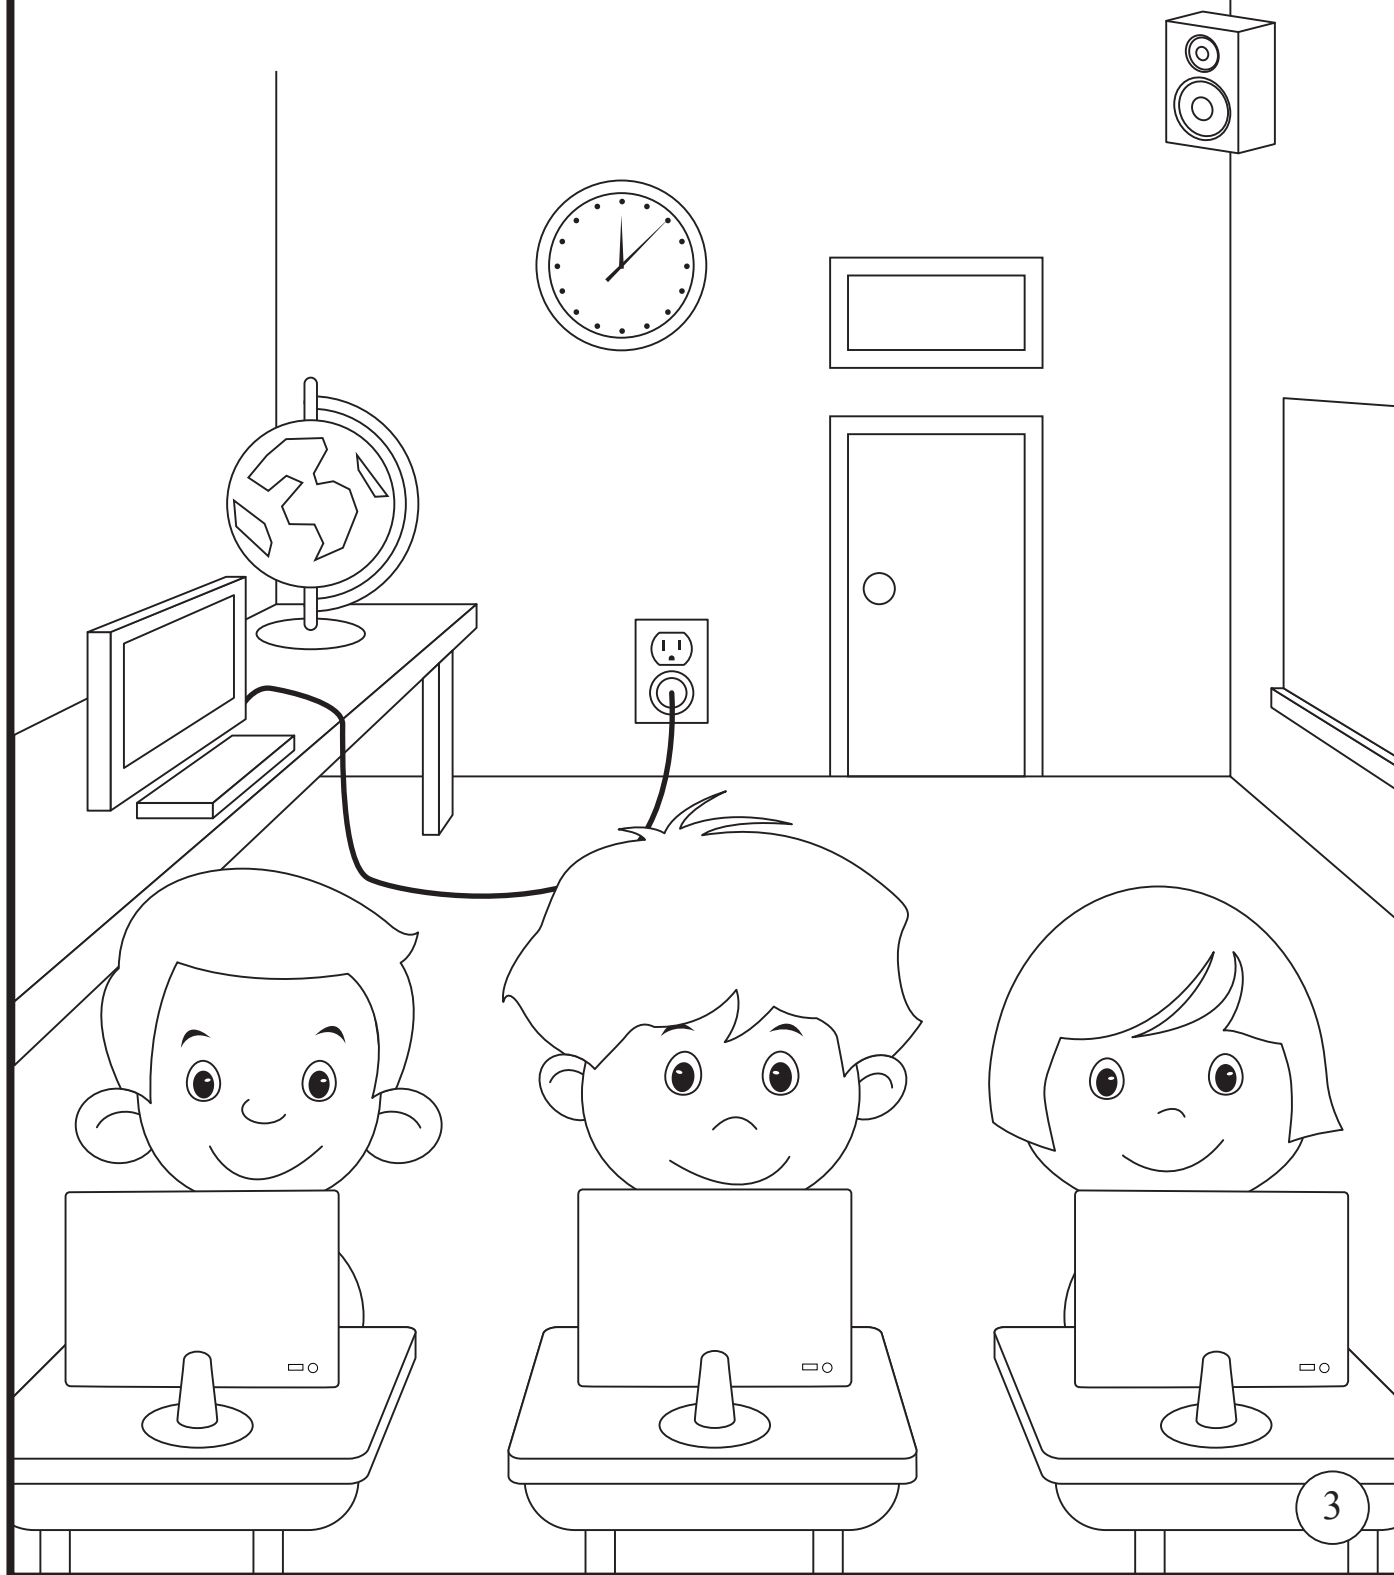

“Hi, I’m George Westinghouse.
Help me explore how electricity or energy, as we call it, is used in your home and school. Let's go!”

Circle the items that use energy in your home.

Circle the items that use energy in your school.

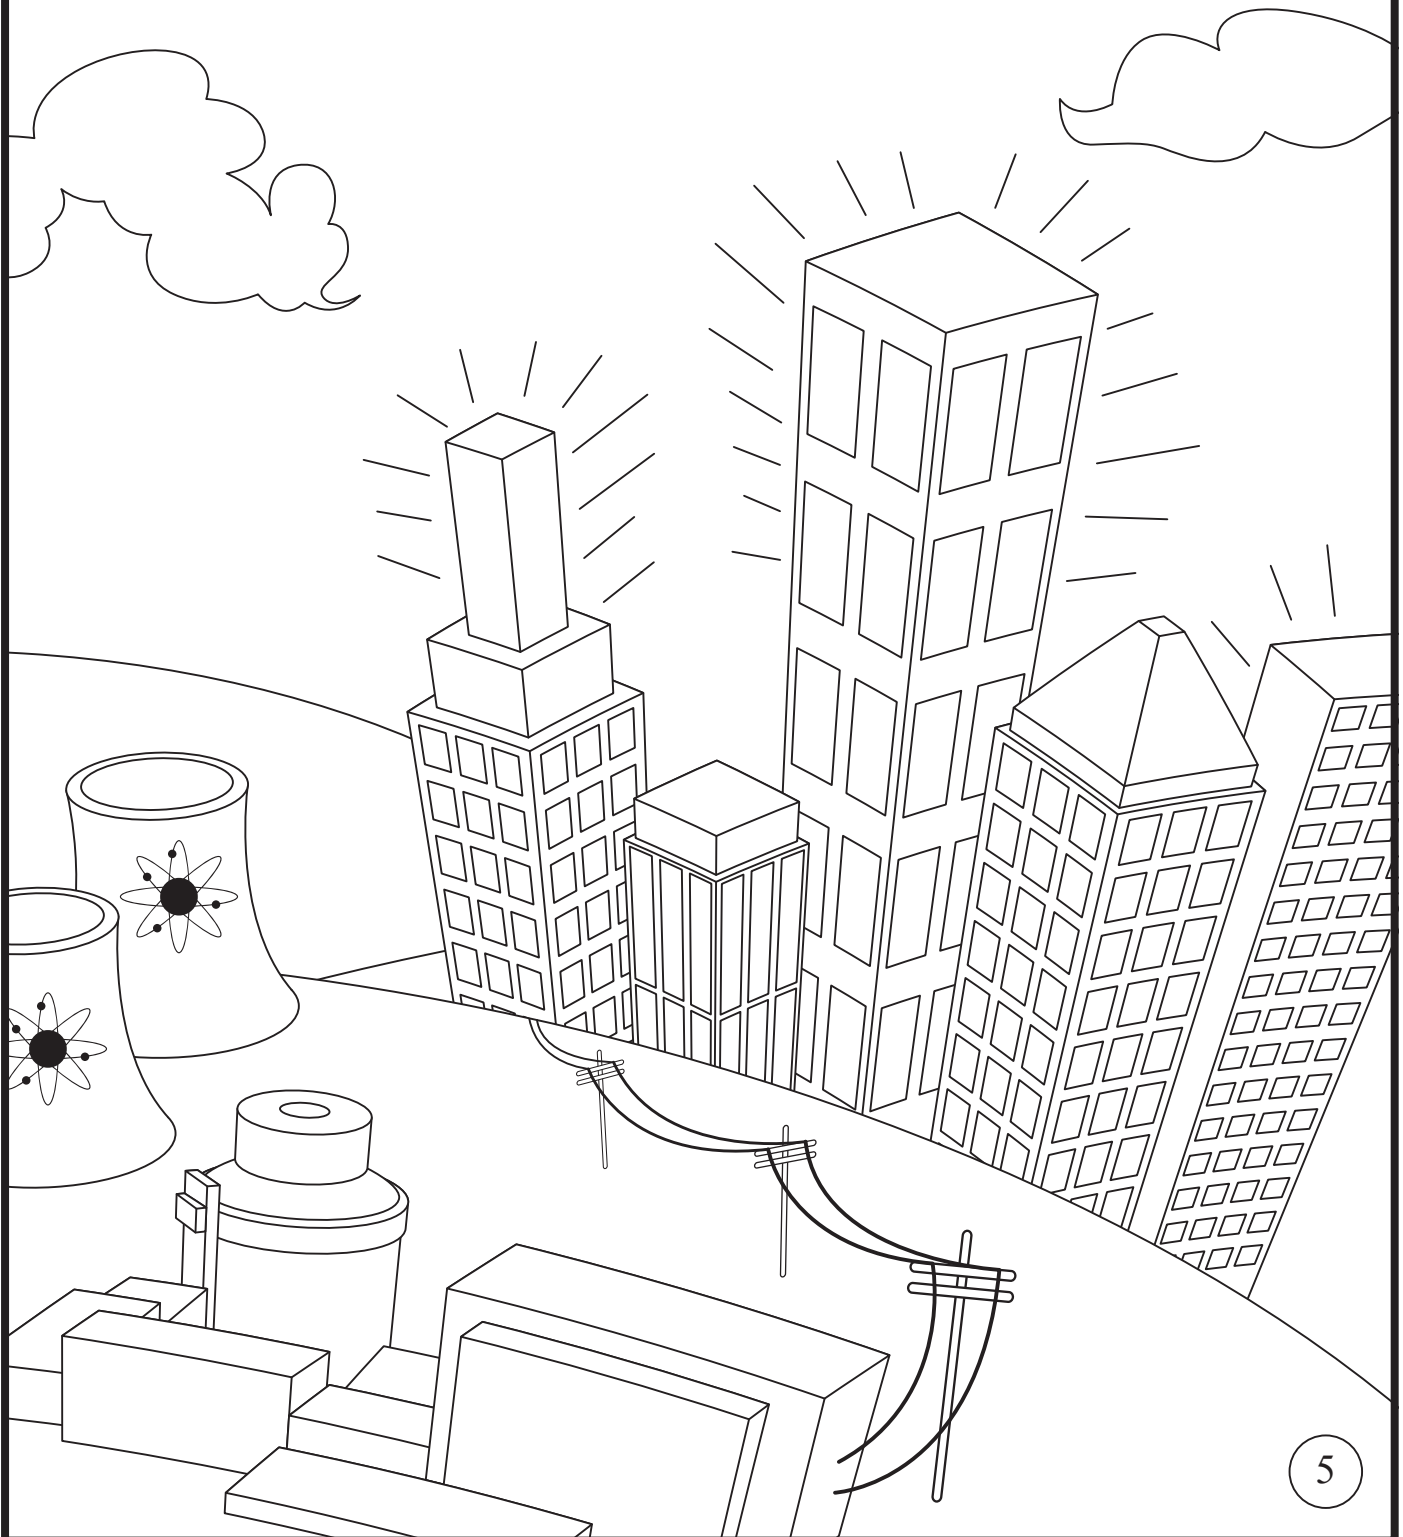

“How do you think
energy gets into our homes and schools?
Let's explore
this together.”
